

Cathy Jenkins

Cathy commenced her professional life as a teacher and has worked in a variety of environments including education system leadership with the Archdiocese of Melbourne and the Diocese of Sandhurst; as a publisher and editor; and a leader of evangelisation for the Archdiocese of Melbourne. In addition to an active involvement in parish life, Cathy is a member of the Sandhurst Catholic Early Education and Care and the Diocese of Sale Catholic Education Board. She is a Member for the Australian Catholic Church Plenary Council. Cathy has a particular interest in liturgy and music and is undertaking some further study in exploring how an understanding of the 'sense of the faithful' has developed through the language synodality as expressed through the leadership of Pope Francis.

Cathy has qualifications in Arts, Theology and post-graduate qualifications in Religious Education and Leadership. Cathy Jenkins is the Executive Director: Mission Leadership at Mercy Health.
